

Abstract of the Disclosure

A carrier device (1) for a monolithic integrated circuit is disclosed which has portions for the connection of bonding wires (5, 6) in the form of pedestals (2, 2') that rise above a chip connection area on the carrier device (1) and have steep sides (3).

(For the abstract: Fig. 1)